His Conclusion.

When Willie was a boy he used to wonder if he would ever be rich—but of course he was too young to know.

When he grew older he argued with himself if smoking was really injurious—but he never settled the question.

Later he went into society and discovered that some women are pretty and that some bako good bread. He often thought he would marry—only he could never seem to decide which kind he preferred.

He grew mightily interested in science and thought he might write a book about something of the sort—but he never did.

He joined five churches, one at a time—but he never felt quite sure he had hit the right one.

He believed in single tax, socialism and high tariff—but he wasn't sure that things were not better as they were.

In time he grew gray and weak in the knees. One day he was taken very ill. He called in a homeopath, an allopath, an osteopath and an herb doctor. They all prescribed—but he couldn't decide which medicine was most likely to cure him. So he took them all.

Then he died. And his friends felt that it was the best thing he had ever done. At last he had arrived at a conclusion.

I commenced taking Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the pain gradually abated and finally ceased and my urine became normal. I cheerfully recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy. New Stanford Drug Co.

MORELAND.

The little town of Moreland received with deep regret the news of the death of Geo. W. Gooch at Asheville, N. C., where he had gone in search of health. He left Danville Jan. 20, and only lived about three hours after reaching Asheville. His remains were brought back to Moreland Saturday morning and laid to rest in the Braxdale family burying ground. He had been employed for the last 15 years by the Q. & C. as a telegraph operator and was always mentioned as one of its best and most reliable men. He was 35 years old and leaves a wife and five small children, besides his mother and a host of friends to mourn his loss. The Moreland office will never seem the same to me, since I can never meet my old friend again within its walls. George came to me while I was agent at Wilmore, 16 years ago, and spent several months with me, learning the profession he pursued until his death, and since he went out on the road we have been thrown together a great deal. He was working the first eight-hour shift at Moreland until last October, when he was forced to lay off on account of his health. He was a member of the Maccabees and Order of Railway Telegraphers and there was present at his funeral 16 brother operators, who brought beautiful floral designs. The Union church at this place was crowded with sorrowing friends and the remarks of Rev. Willis were very appropriate. I was so very sorry I could not get back in time for his funeral, being in Paducah when I received the telegram just two hours too late for me to catch the train that would put me home Sunday noon.

HORSES in the United States numbered 20,610,000 and were valued at $1,974,052,000, an average of $95.64 per head, on January 1 last, according to a report issued by the Department of Agriculture. The report shows a total value of $4,525,259,000, or over 4 per cent. more than a year ago, for all farm animals on farms and ranges in the United States. The horses increased $2.23 a head in value during the year. The number and value of other animals follow: Mules, 4,053,000 and $437,082,000; cows, 21,720,000 and $863,734,000; sheep, 56,084,000 and $192,632,000; swine, 14,147,000 and $354,790,000.

THE court of appeals has decided that farmers can still pool their crops, but trusts and combines can not unite to enhance the price of any article above its real value. It has also decided that the anti-trust act of 1890 is not in conflict with the act of 1906, which empowered the farmers to pool their crops to obtain better prices. Judge O'Rear delivered the opinion and Judges Barker, Lassing and Hobson dissented.

NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES are winning back some of the business lost by the exposures of graft and recklessness of year before last. During 1907, their business fell off over one hundred million dollars, but 1908 shows that a gain of $90,000,000 was made and the State Superintendent of Insurance says the prospects are fair for permanent improvement.

They are in the business to stay and may manufacture later.

J. H. Newell, wife and little daughter, of Casey county, spent a few days with his son, J. J. Newell. The elder Newell celebrated his 53rd birthday on the 23rd. He says experience teaches him that the hoo-doo numbers, 13 and 23, are winners when combined in effecting the same party, as in his case, being born on the 23rd and having 13 children. This is convincing evidence that his theory is correct.

J. K. Jones, a prosperous huckster of Casey, was nearing his home Thursday night with a wagon load of poultry when he was ordered to halt. Seeing a man on each side, he quickly flashed a lantern up and the light fell on a face he recognized. He then concluded they were after the $140 in his pocket, and striking his horses they ran down the hill and up to a neighbor's. The "night walkers" did not follow him. The case will go before the next Casey county grand jury.

THIS office is getting out the ballots to be used in the primary to be held in this county tomorrow week, Feb. 6. Already the candidates and their friends have disposed of 3,000 or 4,000 educational ballots.

How's THIS?—Mr. E. H. Walker writes us from Paint Lick that the fox hound lost during the National Fox Hunt at Crab Orchard in November, turned up safe and sound at the home of his owner, C. THE oldest inhabitant does not recall a more beautiful Winter day than Wednesday. Yesterday started out pretty but clouds began to form about 8 o'clock and a few snow flakes were seen before we went to press.

OWING to a failure to make the lights work as they should, the picture show at the opera house Wednesday night was a failure. Gas was ordered from Cincinnati and a dandy picture show can be counted on for to-night, Friday. Tickets given back Wednesday night will be good to-night. No effort was made to give a show last night.

THE following appeared in the editorial columns of Monday's Advocate and the gentleman's friends in Lincoln are proud of the compliment paid him: News comes from Lincoln county that our old friend, Mr. M. Smith Baughman, will be nominated for sheriff at the primary to be held by the Democratic Saturday week, Feb. 6. This is as it should be. During the four years he was sheriff of that good county he proved the right man for the place. He was ever watchful of the county's interests and no paper was ever placed in his hands that he did not serve promptly. He is strictly a law and order man and a Democrat in all the word means. Seems to us he is the strongest man the Lincoln county Democracy could name and the fact that the Republicans and evil doers do not want him to win should make the good people the more desirous to nominate and elect him. Mr. Baughman has many relatives and friends in Danville and Boyle county who are glad to know that his prospects for the nomination for the office of sheriff are so rosy.

THE county committee met here Wednesday afternoon and named the following officers to serve at the primary to be held in this county tomorrow week, Feb. 6:

Beck, clerk. Stanford No. 3—E. D. Kennedy, judge; Wm. Beck, judge; Wm. Fields, sheriff; R. M. Newland, clerk. Stanford No. 4—Ed Scott, judge; Lee Holtzclaw, judge; B. W. Gaines, sheriff; Embry Beazley, clerk.

Crab Orchard No. 1—P. E. Parrish, judge; E. L. King, judge; Henry Wells, sheriff; Thomas Durham, clerk. Crab Orchard No. 2—Charles Redd, judge; George D. Boone, judge; W. T. To Our Customers Present and Prospective.

The Indian Refining Company has now been doing business in and around Stanford about a year and we take this opportunity to assure our many customers of our sincere appreciation of their patronage and our earnest desire to serve them at all times and also to solicit new business.

It is a well-known fact that our competitor has been active and strenuous in their efforts to take away our business, but in the face of all their efforts we have enjoyed a fair per cent of the trade for which we are grateful to a generous public. A fair share of the business is all we ask and hope that our friends can see their way clear to continue to give us this. We have a fully equipped distributing station at Danville, Ky., and carry a complete line of burning oils and gasoline and can make immediate shipments of all grades of lubricating oils and greases from our refinery at Georgetown, Ky., the largest manufacturing institution in the State. We are absolutely independent of the trust and to again prove this, we publish the sworn statement of the president of our institution.

Should any person make the statement to you that we are part of any other company have them put the statement in writing, then send us the statement and we will hand it to the proper legal authorities and these untruthful statements will cease. We have many unsolicited testimonials as to the quality of our goods and only ask the prospective customers to give us a fair trial and let the results speak for themselves.

We operate no Peddler Wagons. Respectfully yours, INDIAN REFINING CO. W. C. WOLFORD, Agent, Danville, Ky., Branch.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of dyspepsia, heartburn, and indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—made for your self what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend
